Contex Americas to Showcase Fastest, Most Productive Wide Format Scanner at Autodesk University Conference

Attendees Can Put the Scanner to the Test by Bringing a Wide Format Document to Scan

Herndon, VA -- November 22, 2011 -- Contex, the world's leading developer of wide format scanning and imaging solutions, today announces that it will demonstrate the recently-launched HD Ultra at the 2011 Autodesk University Conference, in Las Vegas, from November 29 to December 1. The HD Ultra is the market's most advanced wide format scanner, featuring unmatched speed, productivity and versatility. Conference attendees can put the HD Ultra to the test by bringing in their wide format documents to scan. Plus, all booth visitors will be entered into a drawing for a $200 gift card.

"The new HD Ultra will allow our clients to work faster while still capturing great quality images, no matter the condition of the original drawing," comments Lisa Desautels, president of Graphic Imaging Services, a Las Vegas-based provider of document management solutions for businesses, government, and personal records.

At the Conference, scanning experts from Contex and Graphic Imaging Services will demonstrate the HD Ultra's 6-inch per second scanning speeds, which delivers an unprecedented 901 monochrome and 597 color scans per hour. The experts will also show several unique features that make scanning quick and easy, including one-touch control, fail-safe paper loading, and automatic size detection.

"The HD Ultra is changing the game in wide format scanning, and we are excited to showcase it at the Autodesk University Conference," comments Steve Blanken, Sales Director for Contex Americas. "Conference attendees can experience the power of this new scanner, and learn how it can help increase profitability."

Energy-Star compliant, the HD Ultra is available in 36- and 42-inches, and is the most field-upgradeable wide format scanner in its class. The wide format scanner easily combines with
